Cooley

Katie Lapidus

Associate

klapidus@cooley.com

+1 202 776 2112

Washington, DC

Capital Markets
Emerging Companies
Venture Capital

Katie practices corporate and securities law, with an emphasis on capital markets. She represents companies and investment banks across a range of industries in public and private offerings of equity and debt securities, including initial public offerings (IPOs), follow-on offerings, convertible debt offerings and private placements. Katie also counsels public companies on their ongoing Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) reporting obligations, disclosure and securities law compliance, and advises clients on corporate governance matters.

Education

William & Mary Law School JD, summa cum laude, 2020

University of Virginia McIntire School of Commerce BS, Commerce, with distinction, 2015

Admissions & Credentials

District of Columbia