* Representation handled before joining Cooley

Before joining Cooley, Mike was a corporate counsel at NVIDIA and a corporate associate in the New York office of another US-based international law firm.

During law school, Mike represented social enterprises, nonprofit organizations and select small businesses as a student attorney in the Social Enterprise and Nonprofit Law Clinic, served as a staff editor and community outreach director of the Georgetown Journal on Poverty Law and Policy, and worked as a research assistant for Robert B. Thompson, professor of business law. He also externed in the Division of Enforcement's Whistleblower Office at the US Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

Before law school, Mike worked in several roles in the channel operations, compensation and marketing departments of a Canadian telecommunications provider, where he helped develop and implement strategic marketing initiatives, incentive programs and channel compensation systems, and in the investor relations department of a global private funds administrator, where he serviced hedge funds and private equity funds.
