Commercial Litigation
White Collar Defense and Investigations

Jamie helps companies with a wide variety of large and small litigation needs. She focuses her practice on complex commercial litigation, securities litigation, healthcare litigation and class action defense. Her clients come from a range of industries, including universities, technology companies, financial institutions and healthcare plans. Jamie also maintains a robust pro bono practice focused on civil and human rights causes.

Jamie served as a judicial extern to Judge Michael M. Anello of the US District Court for the Southern District of California and Justice Richard D. Huffman of the Fourth District Court of Appeal for the State of California. Before joining Cooley, she served as law clerk to Judge Mitchell D. Dembin, a federal magistrate judge for the US District Court for the Southern District of California.

While at the University of San Diego School of Law, Jamie was elected to the Order of the Coif and served as a member of the San Diego Law Review.
