Chicago

Sam's practice focuses on business restructuring, including complex Chapter 11 bankruptcy cases, adversary proceedings and out-of-court transactions. He has represented debtors, lenders, official committees, sponsors, asset purchasers and other stakeholders in a variety of distressed scenarios. Sam's experience spans a broad range of industries, including senior living, financial services, life settlement and hospitality.

Before joining Cooley, Sam was an associate in the restructuring group at Mayer Brown. From 2019 to 2020, he served as a judicial law clerk to Judge Donald R. Cassling of the US Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Illinois.

During law school, Sam was a member of the University of Illinois Law Review, won "Best Oralist" at the 2019 American College of Bankruptcy's Seventh Circuit Regional Moot Court competition, and received the Paul M. Lisnek Excellence in Trial Advocacy Award. As an undergraduate, Sam served as executive editor of The New Hampshire, the University of New Hampshire's student-run newspaper.

Sam's representative matters include advising:
