Cooley

Tyler Kennedy

Associate

takennedy@cooley.com

+1 202 776 2322

Washington, DC

Tyler has a general corporate practice, representing emerging companies, public companies and venture capital funds. He advises his clients throughout the business life cycle in matters such as formation, venture financings, and Securities and Exchange Commission reporting and compliance. During law school, Tyler was a member of the Georgetown Law Technology Review and contributed to the American Bar Association's Entertainment and Sports Lawyer.

Before practicing law, Tyler held a variety of positions in private industry. Most recently, Tyler was responsible for leading financial planning and operational analysis for a nine-figure business unit at a national financial services provider.

Education

Georgetown University Law Center JD, cum laude, 2023

University of South Florida MS, Management, 2014

University of South Florida BS, Accounting, 2014

University of South Florida BS, Management, 2013

Admissions & Credentials

District of Columbia