

Stephanie Parker Palmer

Special Counsel

spalmer@cooley.com

Life Sciences

Life Sciences Corporate Partnering and Licensing

+1 703 456 8507

Reston

Stephanie Palmer's practice focuses on representing public and private life science companies in a wide range of commercial transactions, including technology licenses and acquisitions, research and development collaborations and distribution and manufacturing agreements.

Before joining the firm, Stephanie was an associate at a New York-based firm, where her practice focused on transactional work for privately owned pharmaceutical companies. She also served as co-chair of the women's initiatives group.

While at the American University Washington College of Law, she was the senior symposium editor of the American University Law Review.

Education

Washington College of Law American University
JD, 2012

University of Delaware
BA, 2008

Admissions & Credentials

New York

Virginia