Cooley

Elisa Rosen

Special Counsel

erosen@cooley.com

+1 202 776 2812

Washington, DC

Technology Transactions
Intellectual Property

Elisa counsels clients on a broad range of intellectual property (IP) and technology-related transactions. She has advised clients across various industries, including in the digital venture, media and real estate sectors. Elisa's practice includes drafting and negotiating agreements for the following:

- Software as a service (SaaS) and software licensing
- Content licensing and distribution
- Professional services and consulting
- Data licensing
- Technology development
- Operational services for scientific research facilities
- Artwork commissions and other IP creation
- Nondisclosure (NDAs)

Elisa also advises clients regarding right of publicity, copyright and trademark issues.

Elisa's pro bono practice includes technology and IP contract negotiation and counseling for clients that offer educational services, provide volunteer services, and gather oral histories.

Education

The George Washington University Law School JD, with honors, 1993

University of Pennsylvania BA, cum laude, 1990

Admissions & Credentials

District of Columbia