New York

Iris works at the forefront of Cooley's efforts to advance and leverage a variety of technologies, including artificial intelligence (AI), to enhance the quality, efficiency and delivery of legal services across the firm. Drawing on her background of leading knowledge management and innovation teams at a New York-based international law firm, she brings a practical understanding of how technology can transform the delivery of legal services.

She has been recognized for her work by the International Legal Technology Association, the Financial Times and The National Law Journal. Iris has contributed to industry thought leadership through speaking engagements and task forces focused on responsible legal technology adoption in law.
