Liz Sanchez Santiago focuses her practice on general commercial litigation with special interest in technology matters.

During law school, Liz participated in the Community Law Clinic which provided legal assistance to local residents in matters regarding housing, record clearance and social security benefits. She served on the boards of the Stanford Latinx Law Student Association, the First-Generation Professionals student group, the Women of Color Collective, and as a senior editor of the Stanford Journal of Civil Rights and Civil Liberties. In 2019, she received the John Hart Ely Prize for Outstanding Performance in the Global Litigation seminar taught by Professor Deborah Hensler.
