Cooley

Jeffery Wyzykowski

Patent Agent

jwyzykowski@cooley.com

+1 202 842 7811

Washington, DC

Patent Counseling and Prosecution
Intellectual Property
Life Sciences and Healthcare
Technology

Jeff is a patent agent in the life sciences and healthcare practice group and a member of Cooley's litigation department. He joined Cooley in 2005 and is resident in the Washington, DC office. Jeff specializes in patent counseling issues including due diligence, patentability and freedom to operate opinions.

Prior to joining Cooley, he was a Technical Specialist at Morgan Lewis. He holds a MS in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology from Purdue University, and a BS in Recombinant Gene Technology from the State University of New York at Fredonia.

Jeff is admitted to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

Education

Purdue University MS, Biochemistry & Molecular Biology, 2000

State University of New York at Fredonia BS, Recombinant Gene Technology, 1997

Admissions & Credentials

Registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO)