

Andrew Lau

Associate

andrew.lau@cooley.com

Intellectual Property

Intellectual Property Litigation

+1 650 843 5174

Palo Alto

Andrew is an associate in Cooley's intellectual property litigation group. His practice encompasses a range of technologies, including computer software, aeronautics, medical devices and pharmaceuticals.

After earning his Master of Science degree from the Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California (USC), where he was a researcher in professor Leonardo Morsut's lab focusing on tissue engineering and synthetic developmental biology, Andrew attended the Santa Clara University School of Law. During law school, he was the senior articles editor for the Santa Clara Law Review. He also competed in the Honors Moot Court Internal (HMCI) competition and was a member of the HMCI advocacy committee. Upon graduation, Andrew received the High Tech Law Certificate (HTLC), Intellectual Property Specialization, with honors.

Education

Santa Clara University School of Law

JD, 2022

Keck School of Medicine of USC

MS, Stem Cell Biology and Regenerative Medicine, 2019

University of Southern California

BS, Biochemistry, 2018

Admissions & Credentials

California

Memberships & Affiliations

The State Bar of California