

Matthew Oliver

Associate

moliver@cooley.com

+1 617 937 1337

Boston

Commercial Litigation
Intellectual Property Litigation
Artificial Intelligence
Business Restructuring
Post Acquisition Disputes and Advisory CooleyREG

Matthew is a creative and skilled litigator who represents companies, organizations and individuals in complex civil litigation, arbitrations and appeals. He has worked for clients from a wide range of industries, including biotechnology, cybersecurity, sports, private equity and insurance, as well as sovereign states and a major international organization. Matthew also maintains an active pro bono practice and has represented three death-sentenced inmates in post-conviction proceedings in Alabama and Texas.

Before joining Cooley, Matthew practiced in the New York office of an international firm and served as a law clerk to Justice Steven D. Ecker of the Connecticut Supreme Court. He received his JD from Yale Law School, where he was a Coker Fellow and managing editor of the Yale Journal of International Law. Before attending law school, Matthew completed a doctorate in moral philosophy at the University of Oxford.

Education

Yale Law School

JD, 2021

University of Oxford

DPhil, Philosophy, 2018

University of Oxford

BPhil, Philosophy, 2016

Admissions & Credentials

New York

Massachusetts