With nearly 20 years of experience as a hot-seat trial paralegal, Jonathan supports complex commercial matters across a range of areas, including contracts, intellectual property, real estate and employment disputes, including class actions. He works closely with Cooley's trial teams to manage all phases of litigation, from initial case assessment and discovery through trial preparation and post-trial proceedings. Jonathan's hands-on approach and familiarity with courtroom operations have contributed to successful outcomes across jury and bench trials, arbitrations, appeals, and settlements.
