

Madeleine Ahlers

Associate

mahlers@cooley.com

Commercial Litigation
Class Action Litigation
Pro Bono

+1 415 693 2551

San Francisco

Maddie focuses her practice on complex business litigation. She also maintains an active pro bono practice.

While at Berkeley Law, Maddie externed for Magistrate Judge Joseph C. Spero of the US District Court for the Northern District of California and interned at the East Bay Community Law Center's Consumer Justice Clinic. She also served as a director of the 2024 James Patterson McBaine Honors Moot Court competition and directed Berkeley Law's a cappella group, the Pro Bonotes. Maddie was inducted into the Order of Barristers for her achievements in written and oral advocacy and received Jurisprudence Awards for earning the highest grades in her Advanced Legal Writing and Appellate Advocacy courses.

Before attending law school, Maddie was a risk and regulatory consultant in the financial services industry.

Education

University of California, Berkeley, School of Law JD, 2024

New York University BA, Politics, with honors, magna cum laude, 2019

Admissions & Credentials

California