Pia advises clients on contentious and non-contentious competition law matters, including within broader digital regulation and consumer protection frameworks. Her practice spans regulatory enquiries and investigations, competition litigation and class actions, as well as merger control and foreign direct investment filings. Pia has experience representing clients in arbitration, litigation and judicial review proceedings before the English courts. Pia is particularly interested in helping clients navigate the complex, evolving digital regulatory landscape.

Before qualifying, Pia completed seats in business litigation, international products compliance, antitrust and antitrust litigation. Before joining Cooley, she worked in intellectual property disputes for a private practice law firm and in the commercial contracts team of a large technology company.
