Cooley

Harry Calkin

Associate

hcalkin@cooley.com

+44 (0) 20 7556 4131

London

Mergers and Acquisitions Venture Capital Emerging Companies

Harry Calkin is resident in Cooley's London office. As an associate within the corporate team, Harry works on a broad range of domestic and cross-border corporate transactions, with particular experience in private M&A, venture and growth capital.

Representative matters include advising:

- Super Group, a holding company for leading global online sports betting and gaming businesses Betway and Spin, on its agreement to merge with Sports Entertainment Acquisition Corp., a special purpose acquisition company or SPAC
- SoftBank as the lead investor on London-based VR company Improbable's $502 million Series B funding round
- Accel and General Catalyst on their investments in digital bank Monzo as part of its £85 million
 Series E, £113 million Series F and £60 million Series G rounds
- General Catalyst on its investment in Deliveroo as part of its $275 million Series E and $385 million Series F rounds
- Immunocore, a British biotechnology company, on its $75 million Series C round
- DalCor Pharma UK Ltd on its $100 million Series B financing round
- Decibel, a digital experience analytics company, on its $23 million Series B round led by Perwyn
- Humio, a modern unlimited logging solution software platform, on its $20 million Series B round
- Autotech Ventures and Target Global on their investments as part of the £20.5 million investment round in car subscription company Drover
- Wagestream, an on-demand salary payment platform, on its £20 million Series B round led by Northzone, with participation from QED Investors, Latitude Venture Partners and Balderton Capital
- SeatGeek on its $57 million Series D financing round and concurrent acquisition of Israeli-based ticketing software company TopTix for $56 million
- BGF on its investment in fireplace business Chesney's

Education

BPP University GDL, 2012

University of Leeds BA, (Hons), 2010