Claire is a partner in our product compliance and liability team. She advises clients on regulatory risk, compliance and litigation issues. She helps clients who deal with products and consumers. Claire works with them to help bring both digital and physical products to market, advising on labelling, packaging, regulatory approvals and engaging with regulators and consumers. She also has significant expertise in coordinating and delivering business critical international regulatory and compliance advice and delivering complex multi-jurisdictional projects.

Claire also advises clients when things go wrong – such as dealing with regulatory and compliance issues, crisis management, handling and coordinating regulatory crises, product recalls and product compliance matters, managing customer relations and claims and investigating and defending regulatory investigations and prosecutions.

Claire is recommended within the Product Liability category by the latest 2026 edition of the UK Legal 500.
