

Alex Cubaleski

Associate

acubaleski@cooley.com

+1 212 479 6889

New York

Commercial Litigation

Arbitration

Pro Bono

Alex focuses her practice on complex litigation matters and appellate work, in addition to arbitration and internal investigations. Her clients include large public and private technology and life sciences companies, as well as high-profile individuals. Alex also has significant experience drafting winning motions and briefs and handling discovery disputes.

As a first-generation Guatemalan-Yugoslavian American, Alex possesses vast international experience, cultural competency and Spanish fluency. She also maintains a robust pro bono practice, and she's passionate about civil rights, reproductive justice, immigrant rights, voting rights, climate justice and international human rights.

In her current role at Cooley, Alex is the head of the firm's First-Generation Professionals group and the New York chapter of Cooley's Latinx Affinity Group. She's also an active member of the Women of Color Initiative, as well as a vigorous advocate of mental well-being who maintains a trauma-informed practice.

Education

New York University School of Law
JD, 2021

Brooklyn College
MS, Childhood Education, 2017

New York University Stern School of Business
BS, Business and Political Economy, 2015

Admissions & Credentials

New York