Logan counsels emerging growth companies and their investors on corporate and transactional matters throughout the company life cycle. He advises clients on company formation, corporate governance, venture financings, mergers and acquisitions, and securities law compliance, as well as day-to-day corporate matters. His practice includes representing companies and investors in preferred stock financings and other venture transactions, as well as advising companies on governance, capitalization and other general corporate matters.

Before joining Cooley, Logan was a corporate associate at another law firm, where he represented technology companies and their investors in a range of corporate and transactional matters.
