Cooley

David Selden

Partner

dselden@cooley.com

+1 212 479 6861

New York

Fund Formation
Venture Capital
Private Equity

Impact Investing and Mission-Driven Enterprises
Financial Services Enforcement and Regulatory CooleyREG

David's clients include fund sponsors, major financial institutions, institutional investors and investment advisers. He regularly advises on fund formations, management company structure, incentive compensation arrangements, evergreen products and managed accounts. His experience includes establishing venture capital, private equity, crypto and other alternative investment funds across the UK and Europe, counseling on placement and other distribution arrangements, and advising in connection with the establishment of new fund managers and family offices.

Before joining Cooley, David was a partner at PricewaterhouseCoopers, where he led the firm's alternative investment funds legal practice in the UK.

Education

University of Minnesota Law School JD, 2001

University of Virginia BA, 1996

Admissions & Credentials

New York

Rankings & Accolades

The Legal 500: Leading Individual – Investment Fund Formation and Management, Hedge Funds