

Remy Carreiro

Associate

rcarreiro@cooley.com

Commercial Litigation
Technology
Pro Bono

+1 415 693 2427

San Francisco

Remy represents clients in complex civil litigation, with an emphasis on commercial litigation, technology matters and emerging issues in artificial intelligence. She maintains an active pro bono practice, including amicus and appellate work.

Remy graduated from UC Berkeley School of Law, where she was awarded the Jamison Prize for Scholarship and Advocacy. In law school, Remy was a member of the Ninth Circuit Practicum, where her team briefed, argued and won two prisoner civil rights appeals. She also was a supervising editor for the California Law Review, an editor for the Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice, a competing member of Berkeley Law's Trial Team and student co-director of the Appellate Advocacy Program.

Before attending law school, Remy was a professional classical ballet dancer.

Education

University of California, Berkeley, School of Law JD, 2024

Northeastern University BS, Political Science, summa cum laude, 2019

Admissions & Credentials

California

Court Admissions

US District Court for the Northern District of California