

Cooley's commitment to attracting, mentoring and retaining an exceptional team of lawyers from as many backgrounds as possible is embedded in the firm's culture. Today, as the firm has grown and expanded, this commitment remains through active participation and leadership in local and national minority law organizations, diversity pipeline projects, law school diversity programs and community outreach. The firm's management, hiring and diversity committees work closely together to create programs and policies that advance its diversity and inclusion goals.

Affinity Groups

Cooley has several active affinity groups, all of which were formed and are managed by Cooley lawyers. The groups work to enhance recruiting, retention, training and promotion initiatives; sponsor professional and business development programs; and identify client and community partnering opportunities. Current affinity groups include African American lawyers, minority associates and LGBTQ lawyers. Participation from all with an interest in diversity is encouraged.

Women's Initiative

Cooley's Women's Initiative Committee is comprised of a woman partner and associate from each of our offices. The group's mission is to provide women lawyers with support and mentoring to define and further their success; increase the visibility of women lawyers to the firm's leadership and encourage leadership opportunities for women lawyers; foster business development opportunities for women lawyers; and to host professional development events intended to strengthen core skills among the firm's lawyers. The Initiative sponsors and participates in a number of women's leadership organizations, including the Women in Law Empowerment Forum (WILEF), the National Association of Women Lawyers (NAWL) and Women in Law London (WILL). Offerings include:

- Connection Circle initiative to provide greater opportunities for relationship development across practice groups and various levels of seniority
- Liaison program for lawyers on extended leave
- Quarterly in-office women lawyer gatherings
- Panel presentations and group discussions on topics important to women associates, including business development
- A dinner held in each office during the summer at a partner's home or local restaurant for all women associates and summer associates to socialize and address issues of particular interest to women

Diversity Fellowship

Cooley offers diversity fellowships to outstanding first-year law students as part of our ongoing commitment to recruiting and developing a diverse and talented team. The annual fellowship provides a substantial monetary award to assist with law school tuition, as well as a summer associate position.
